

For Ladies Ills

Great suffering is the lot of all women, who neglect the health of their womanly organs. No reason to do so, any more than to neglect a sore throat, colic, or any other disease, that the right kind of medicine will cure. Take for all your womanly ills. It can never do harm, and is certain to do good. Mrs. Sallie H. Blair, of Johnson City, Tenn., writes: "I had suffered from womanly troubles for sixteen months, and had four doctors, but they could not help me, until I began to take Wine of Cardui. Now I think I am about well." At all reliable druggists, in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

Something to All.

To those who say that liquor does not trouble those who let it alone, we commend the following poem: NOTHING AND SOMETHING.

"It's nothing to me," the beauty said, With a careless toss of her pretty head, "The man is weak if he can't refrain From the cup you say is fraught with pain."

It was something to her in after years When her eyes were drenched with burning tears, And she watched in lonely grief and dread, And started to hear a staggering tread.

"It's nothing to me," the mother said, "I have no fears that my boy will tread The downward path to sin and shame, And crush my heart and darken my name."

It was something to her when her only son From the path of life was early won, And madly cast in the flowing bowl A ruined body and a shipwrecked soul.

"It's nothing to me," the merchant said, As over the ledger he bent his head; "I'm busy to-day with the tare and tret, And have no time to fume and fret."

It was something to him when over the wire A message came from a funeral pyre— A drunken conductor had wacked a train, And his wife and children were among the slain.

"It's nothing to me," the young man cried; In his eyes was a flash of scorn and pride— "I heed not the dreadful things you tell, I can rule myself, I know full well."

'Twas something to him when in prison he lay, The victim of drink—life ebbing away, As he thought of his wretched child and wife, And the mournful wreck of his wasted life.

"It's nothing to me," the voter said, "The party's loss is my greatest dread." Then he gave his vote for the liquor trade, Though hearts were crushed and drunkards made.

It was something to him in after life, When his daughter became a drunkard's wife, And her hungry children cried for bread, And trembled to hear their father's tread.

Is it nothing to us to idly sleep While the cohorts of death their vigils keep, Alluring the young and thoughtless in— And grind in our midst a grist of sin? It is something—yes, all, for us to stand, And clasp by faith our Savior's hand, To learn to labor, live and fight On the side of God and changeless right.

IT REACHED THE SPOT.

Mr. E. Humphrey, who owns a large general store at Omega, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as the Home Telephone Co., of Pike County, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my cough—when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it heals the sore spots and the weak spots in the throat, lungs and chest. Sold under guarantee at E. T. Whitehead Company's drug store. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Henry Grady on Intemperance.

The late Henry W. Grady, one of the most brilliant men the South has produced, left on record some of his best sayings against the liquor traffic. Let the following be read and heeded by every voter when he deposits his ballot on prohibition for North Carolina on May 26:

There is no cottage humble enough to escape it, no palace strong enough to shut it out. It defies the law when it can not coerce suffrage.

It is flexible to cajole, but merciless in victory. It is the mortal enemy of peace and order, the despoiler of men and terror of women, the cloud that shadows the faces of children, the demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls unsaved to judgment than all the pestilences that have wasted life since God sent the plagues to Egypt, and all the wars since Joshua stood before Jericho.

It comes to ruin, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and mine. It comes to mislead human souls and to crush human hearts under its rumbling wheels.

It comes to bring gray-haired mothers down in shame and sorrow to their graves. It comes to change the wife's love into despair and her pride into shame.

It comes to still the laughter on the lips of little children. It comes to stifle all the music of the home and fill it with silence and desolation.

It comes to ruin your body and mind, to wreck your home and it knows it must measure its prosperity by the swiftness and certainly with which it wrecks the world.

Why I am a Prohibitionist.

(Ex-Governor Aycock.) Why am I a prohibitionist? Not to take any right away from you, but to see that you don't take my rights away from me. It is not to find out whether another man wants liquor sold, but whether you want it sold. You talk of "personal liberty." The retort is that when you force a bar-room on me you take away my liberty. I am not voting for you; I am voting for myself.

What does prohibition mean? It means a people calm, judiciously sacrificing their appetite upon the altar of their children's uplift. The people like liquor—I will say "we" like liquor. Suppose we do. That is the test. It wouldn't cost anything to give up something we didn't want. It would not be worth anything, it would give no power, no grace. How does a people become great? By gratifying their passions and appetites? Nay, but by sacrificing them.

Point out the boys who are going to make this a greater, a stronger people, and you will see them willing to forego their appetites and their passions for the privilege of enjoying the glory of to-morrow. As with the individual, so with all the boys and girls, as with them the State. No State ever grew great except through the willing sacrifice of appetite.

We don't build monuments to distillers and bar-keepers. If they are good things, they ought to be commemorated. Suppose a man should undertake to get up a collection of that sort—how much money would he get in this country? Not a red cent. But, if he should find the record of an earnest, quiet, pious man going about all the days of his life seeking to better his fellow-men; if he should find that the yellow fever came, he stayed and fought with death at close range, and died of it himself, he would raise the money for that monument because the story that it stood for would appeal to the best that there is in you.

But liquor appeals to the worst. Manzan Pile Remedy, price 50c., is guaranteed. Put up ready to use. One application prompt relief to any form of Piles. Sooths and heals. Sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

Mrs. S. Joyce, 180 Sullivan Street, Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years' standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." E. T. Whitehead Company.

Care of Farm Machinery.

(Selected.) Good reasoning tells us that there are but two times during the year that farm machinery needs any special care. First, when it is in use. Second, when it is not in use.

One season without shelter will damage farm machinery more than the wear caused by its use during the season. The action of the weather which will cause a rusting of the iron and steel, as well as the rotting of the wood parts, will seriously interfere with the working of the machine when it is again put to use. By this exposure certain parts are very much weakened and the machine becomes of shorter life.

When the season's work with a certain machine has been finished it should be thoroughly cleaned and all parts that are liable to rust should be carefully wiped with oiled waste or an oiled rag. It is a good idea to coat these parts with either tallow or a good grade of axle grease.

After carefully putting away the greased parts, the implement should be stored in a shed of some kind, rather than be left in the open.

The farmer who takes proper care of his implements not only houses them and keeps them in good adjustment, but he paints them occasionally. Paint closes all cracks and keeps out the moisture. It not only preserves the wood, but the iron parts are benefited as well. It also gives the tools a much better appearance.

A CALIFORNIAN'S LUCK.

"The luckiest day of my life was when I bought a box of Ducklen's Arnicia Salve," writes Chas. F. Budahn, of Tracy, California. "Two 25c. boxes cured me of an annoying case of itching piles, which had troubled me for years and that yielded to no other treatment." Sold under guarantee at E. T. Whitehead Company's drug store.

When a man writes as follows don't you think he means it? Mr. S. G. Williams, Powderly, Texas, says: "I have suffered for years with kidney and bladder trouble, using every preparation I came across and taking many prescriptions all without relief until my attention was called to Pincules. After 30 days' trial ($1.00). I am feeling fine. Money refunded if not satisfied. Sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

More News From New England States.

If any one has any doubt as to the virtue of Foley's Kidney Cure, they need only refer to Mr. Alvin H. Stimpson, of Willimantic, Conn., who, after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. He is now entirely well and free from all suffering incident to acute kidney trouble. E. T. Whitehead Company.
